M.J. ARTIGUES

Mr. Artigues is fatally
stricken

Maurice J. Artigues, 54, of 122 Union St., died Wednesday morning at Hancock General Hospital where he had been admitted Tuesday after being taken ill at home.

A Bay resident for last 28 years he moved here from New Orleans where he was born on Nov. 8, 1913. He was a member of Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church and was a Fourth Degree member of Knights of Columbus. Mr. Artigues was a salesman for United Artists Corp. of New Orleans and at time of his death was part owner of Superior Supply Co., here.

Mr. Artigues was active in a number of civic endeavors and at one time was a trustee of the Bay St. Louis Municipal Separate School District.

He is survived by his wife, the former Fran LeBlanc, three sons, Maurice, Jr., of Meridian, Kenneth, of Vicksburg and Ronald of Bay St. Louis; five daughters, Mrs. Marcia Mooney, Baton Rouge,

City Commission Council yesterday morning approved 61 strips of streets for paving in preparation for adoption of resolutions Monday to finance the program.

Selection of the streets came after almost four weeks of studying protests filed by abutting property owners to the original 85-strip plan. Twenty streets were eliminated by the protest petitions and council removed four others not protested after consultation with property owners.

Easterbrook Street between Necaise and Second was cleared just before council convened at 10 a.m. when three petitioners removed their protests. Originally 19 of 35 property owners had objected. Hancock Street was added to the program late last week. Five withdrew protests between Union and Washington, leaving 10 of 22 owners objecting, and two asked to remove their names in the section from Washington to St. Charles. That left nine of 19 objecting.

However, it may be late September before actual construction starts, Mayor John A. Scafide was advised over the phone by Joseph Richard, Baton Rouge consulting engineer who is preparing the plans. Richard explained it will take five survey crews in the field for one month to work up specifications.

The mayor and commissioners J. Cyril Glover and Warren Traub said they plan to start four weeks of advertising next week for the necessary bond bids. They had hoped to begin this week but last minute addition of one street and the fact their attorneys were busy with the Circuit Court term created difficulty. That will make the last week in June before bonds can be sold and legal technicalities and validation will take some more time.

Bids can't be sought for construction until the city has the money and Glover said that will probably work out to be about the same time the bond validation is completed. Construction bids must be advertised and with anticipated alternates in specifications, tabulation may be lengthy.

The bond ordinance is being prepared in the neighborhood of $760,000, Scafide said, between now and Monday they hope to

Supervisors pass on HNC roof loan

A third loan this fiscal year from the school bond sinking fund—this one for $25,000 to supplement the cost of putting a new roof on Hancock North Central School—was unanimously approved by the board of supervisors Monday at the request of the county school board.

Beat 2 Supervisor Delph Kellar voiced lots of misgivings about the latest borrowing request before "reluctantly" seconding Beat 3 member Joseph A. Cuevas' motion to proceed so work could be completed during the summer vacation.

Notice of intention has to be given taxpayers—the route followed on the two previous loans, one for $50,000 and the other for $25,000.

At the suggestion of board president Russell J. Elliott, the school board was asked to give the supervisors advance notice of all work on which bids are sought so that availability of funds can be determined.

Kellar complained that if school revenues were to recede, the supervisors were the ones who would have to levy additional millage to meet obligations. He predicted that the county system would soon be wanting additional buildings to handle increased enrollment since it has terminated its tuition agreement with the Bay St. Louis schools.

Probe equipment snafu at port

Decision whether to call a special grand jury for May term of circuit court is pending further tests of craneage oil taken from county equipment after it was discovered inoperable Monday morning.

Investigation began after it was first reported Monday morning that $200,000 worth of dozers, graders and draglines had been tampered with at the site of port and harbor operations at Mulatto Bayou.

Sheriff Fred Curet's deputies George Rayburn and Ed DePreo were assisted by Travis Lott, Mississippi Patrol Inspector and the five county supervisors went to the scene Tuesday afternoon to examine damages.

By Wednesday mechanics had a Beat 5 grader, front end loader and dragline working as well as dozers from Beat 1, 2 and 3 and a Beat 1 dragline.

Apparently ruined was a TD-15 dozer, property of Beat 5 and the seawall. Oil from this vehicle was tested in a Jackson laboratory and results were inconclusive Wednesday. A preliminary report said foreign matter in the liquid was either honey, syrup or could have come from anti-freeze from a leaking radiator.

Faulty maintenance was given by mechanics as the cause of difficulties with machinery now repaired, according to the sheriff's force.

First reports reaching the supervisors at their Monday morning session was that all eight pieces of equipment had been "sugared." They immediately recessed and went to confer with Charles Hill, port director. Russell J. Elliott, Beat 5 member and board president, said he would personally swear out affidavits for arrest of whoever was responsible.

Sheriff Curet subsequently conferred with the board informally about the possibility of getting District Attorney Boyce Holleman to urge Judge

Leslie B. Grant to call a special grand jury on the matter. He assured the supervisors he had other matters to bring up as well.

During the afternoon Hill secured an estimate of $700 for machine to dismantle and clean it to determine the trouble. The price included any parts and the price of hauling them in for repairs.

The equipment, most of it owned jointly by an individual beat and the seawall fund, had been at Mulatto Bayou clearing potential industrial sites for about three months.

The port commission was paying for fuel, lubricants and labor, under an informal agreement with the supervisors, but not major repairs or depreciation. The county is being reimbursed by port funds for its costs on the work.

New Orleans firm starts city audit

Caballero and Reger, certified public accountants from New Orleans, started Tuesday morning auditing the books of Bay St. Louis' utility system.

They were retained by Commission Council May 8, according to City Clerk J. Cyril Glover. When the utility audit is finished, they will move on to the other city books. This is the first time in some years a CPA has been retained for an audit. As a matter of routine, audits are audited annually by Bob Blenvenu.

Council promised the citizens advisory committee early this year it will have a CPA make an audit and the matter has been pushed for some time by the so-called Committee for Better City Government.

Glover noted that an annual CPA audit for operating and maintenance money is required under the bond resolution for this program.

The $3 million utility construction fund will be audited by the federal government, which bought the bonds, when all accounts are settled, Glover explained.

Within the last week C.O. Osborne, sewer contractor, has settled its liquidated damages with the city for 108 days of $100 each—a total of $10,800. This was the sum recommended by the city's engineering over and above the contract days in the contract. The money goes into the utility system's bond and interest sinking fund and can't be diverted for any other use.

The Osborne contract provided an additional $4,760 for repairs to damages to public

Jordan to Wolf 110 work due in late June

Construction to begin in late June on Interstate 10 between the Jordan and Wolf Rivers in Harrison and Hancock Counties, according to W.H. (Shag) Fyren, Southern District Highway Commissioner.

The State Highway Commission has authorized Dike Contractors, Inc., of Memphis, Tenn., to begin work which includes grading, drainage, cut-and-fill, box bridge, bridge and erosion control, final construction, and double bottoming surface treatment for 12.25 miles.

The project is under the supervision of the Harrison District office and the main office of the Southern District is in the state capital.

Alphabetically they are Lucy Green of Lafayette, Missy Hall of Kilm, Janet Kidd of Bay St. Louis, Beth Montayer of Waveland, and Sharon Monti of Bay St. Louis.

Patty Green is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Green, Jr., and a Candy Stripper at Hancock General Hospital. She is on Bay High School's basketball team, rides horses, plays softball, swims and is a member of the Spanish Club and the American Legion Junior Auxiliary.

Check sewage problem

A survey to determine what establishments in Bay St. Louis are dumping effluent into open ditches where there is evidence of contamination or stagnation was ordered by city officials at a meeting Tuesday with Thomas Wade, assistant sanitarian for the health department.

When findings are completed, the city will insist that offenders tie into the sewer system as soon as possible and eliminate the health hazard. Mayor John A. Scafide said Wednesday where there is no cooperation, appropriate steps will be taken.

City Building Inspector Harry Benjamin and Anthony Benigno, superintendent of the sewer department, attended the meeting and were asked to check on residences and commercial establishments which have not yet tied into the system.

As county chairman

Demos elect Benvenutti

Joseph H. Benvenutti, attorney for the board of supervisors, was elected chairman of the county Democratic executive committee and Leo W. Seal, Jr., was chosen for a third term as secretary at the party's quadrennial reorganization Tuesday at the Court-house.

Only seven members of the retiring executive committee were re-elected by delegates to the county convention after Seal announced to nominate three commissioners from each of the five geographic districts.

The convention also elected the five members of the board of supervisors plus Benvenutti, attorney J. R. Griffin and G. Dean, former Beat 1 supervisor, as delegates to the 9th congressional District convention June 10 in Hot Springs and the state meeting July 3 in Jackson. They are to be entrusted to elect Hancock County's two voters.

Ed Larroux, North Bay delegate, moved to nominate the new supervisors, composed of John V. Latorre, after inquiry if the field was confined to county convention delegates. Benvenutti, presiding, said it was not. Seal was nominated but asked to withdraw his name.

With three others proposed that made eight men to elect a quarter of a vote each. Griffin was nominated by John Latorre, Benvenutti by Joseph Dabson and Dean by H.G. Davis, Jr.

Benvenutti and Seal were elected convention chairman and secretary by acclamation after Seal opened the meeting in the absence of Omar Reed, committee chairman. Benvenutti appointed to the executive committee Davis from Beat 1; Richard Turner, Beat 2; Leo Swilley, Beat 3; Dabson, Beat 4, and Larroux, Beat 5.

Along with Seal, the committee considered disputation over counties represented from Dabson's precinct, Waveland and South Bay. It determined there was a three-way tie in electing Dabson's delegate and sealed both sides, each with a half-vote. Hubert Dabson, Norman Latorre, J.B. Latorre and C.J. Camoron, Paul Hopley and Ramon McCullough were certified delegates from Waveland when it appeared. D.E. Wilcox and Fred Dabson had not been elected in the designated polling place. On the same basis W.M. Farris and V.J. Piazza were certified over Herbert Zengerting and Prather Nease.

Three precincts failed to send any delegates—City Hall, Arlington and Edwardsville, all in Beat 5. And at least two certified delegates failed to show, but there was no roll call to determine the number present.

After the chairman explained how the executive committee could be chosen, three from each beat, by the convention at large or nominated by beat caucus, Larroux moved to continue in office the executive committee which has been serving. Davis seconded but after Seal read the list of the old committee and several questions from the floor, he withdrew his second and Larroux subsequently withdrew his motion. Latorre moved for beat caucuses which moved to the committee the following:

Beat 1—Pete Walker, Davis, Attract Moran; Beat 2—Turner, Oliver Priorson, Mobry Eccles; Beat 3—Swilley, Smith and Camoron; Beat 4—Huber Leo, Larry McCammon and Oliver Seal; and Beat 5—Benvenutti, Leo Seal, Jr., and Gerald Cox.

On Hopley's motion, those were unanimously elected. When the new executive

Only two days of glory for Louisville and Nashville Railroad's Bay St. Louis train station with diminishing number of trains, now down to two a day each way, and diminishing number of passengers, used for top notch facility became a little vagabond coach that looked so badly it became worse under than on top and all roofing timbers rotted, railroad decided to tear down canopy rather than engage in costly business of repairs. Grace Curry, a student at St. Rose, posed on way home yesterday to survey forlorn looking steelwork also being ripped down.

COUNTY DEMOCRATS PRESENT CREDENTIALS

Beach road plans run into new woe

Federal emergency relief repairs to the beachfront road, damaged by Hurricane Betsy two and a half years ago, ran into another stylin' this week when the board of supervisors was informed the former county engineer wouldn't release the plans until he was paid $50 by each back for last month's services.

On Beat 2 Supervisor Dolph Kellar's motion, it was voted to notify George Wier, former county engineer, by registered mail that he would receive $100 a month for beach road work and $50 for special assistance on the Beat 1 state aid project on Ansley Road. Supervisors contended Wier had offered this price in early January when the new administration indicated it did not intend to re-hire him.

Later in the afternoon Wier phoned C.A. Ruse, III, Beat 1 member, and indicated he would release the plans for the amount the board would allow but he still thought he was entitled to $250. Supervisors did not rescind their earlier action but did start checking into when the bond for the new engineer, A.C. Malchow of Gulfport, was filed.

Malchow reported on a conference May 7 in Jackson with Frank Moore and B.F. Broome of the state aid division of the highway department and said they wanted certification that the county's share of the matching funds for the job are available. As soon as they get the check, they'll be ready to go with the bids, he said.

The new engineer reported Wier had turned over all his files except field notes on the Beach road which he will need, Russell Neale, contractor on the Ansley Road project, met with Malchow and the supervisors to review state recommendations about completing this project in view of inability to obtain right of way for a drainage ditch in one section. Malchow said his office is reviewing the whole Ansley record from start to finish to determine what has to be done and will send a copy to each supervisor and the contractor.

Heitzmann eyes impact of equalization bill

If the equalization of property assessment bill passed last week by the State Senate, Heitzmann believes the demands for equalization should first be placed on those counties which are well below the state average.

A study made by the Mississippi Economic Council in 1962, before the impact of NASA's Mississippi Test Facility, analyzed the sales ratio here. It took 549 sample cases of urban property with an aggregate ratio of 13.8 and found a median figure of 16.7. Only 48 rural properties were sampled, ranging from 9.8 to 5.4.

Heitzmann, who is president of the Mississippi Assessors Assn., said he would like to see a true picture of timber assessments in the state. For example, Harrison County lumps Pass Christian under its acreage rolls and shows assessments of $6.44 and $68.18. Similarly, Jackson County has its shipyard assessments on the acreage book. Figures there are $10.95 and $100.

Red Tape Ends... Where The Best Begins!

Tracing the origin of the term "RED TAPE" could prove to be quite involved as a matter of fact you could become all wrapped up in it.

Simply stated, RED TAPE is generally accepted to mean EXCESSIVE PAPERWORK AND/OR CLERICAL INVOLVEMENT. As in any banking institution we at Gulf National Bank follow certain set procedures in performing our daily services, but we like to think that "RED TAPE" is always held to a minimum. Accounts are easily opened, loan applications are promptly considered and special attention is always given to unusual problems.

All in all we feel certain that those who bank the Gulf National way realize that RED TAPE ends—WHERE THE BEST BEGINS!

Skiing limits asked in Jordan, Bayou LaCroix

Two items on the opening front went before the board of supervisors Monday. One was a request to fix water skiing limits in inland waters and the other for financial aid for the 2nd annual Hancock County Fishing Rodeo, Inc., planned for Thanksgiving weekend this year.

The water safety proposals were drawn up at a meeting last Friday night attended by 38 persons from all sections of the county. Civil Defense Director Lucien Kidd reported. They recommended:

Sliding on Jordan River from the Rt. 803 bridge to the river mouth; none on Bayou Caddy; on Bayou LaCroix from 500 feet east of the bridge with that west of the bridge designated a no wake area and boat operators held responsible for any damage to property. Recommendations for restrictions on Pearl River will be forwarded later, Kidd said.

The report proposed that property owners in the county may petition for any changes.

Supervisors accepted the recommendations and referred them to Board Attorney Joseph Benvenuti. Kidd indicated the next step is for the State Boat and Water Safety Commission to call its own hearing on the basis of information received. Richard Hayles of the Coast Guard's 8th Naval District at New Orleans and Herb Gaddy of the Boat and Water Safety Commission spoke at Friday's hearing about authority of the two agencies in this field.

Mrs. Charles Salk who lives in the proposed "no wake" area of Bayou LaCroix urged the supervisors to provide necessary restrictive signs in the area after the rash of skiers and the like last weekend. Russell J. Elliott, board president, questioned how the signs could be paid for and whether restrictions could be effectively enforced.

Leroy L. Hall of Pearlton and Henry Otis, secretary of the Hancock Rodeo, asked for the board's financial support of this year's event. Last year the county gave $1,000 for advertising but the current board noted its money is limited with a major commitment already made to the Chamber of Commerce's trade seminar in the fall. It promised to consider the matter at budget time.

Hall explained that the weekend after Thanksgiving would not compete with other area fishing events and he is assured that's an excellent fishing time. The rodeo queen this year will be selected from among high school students throughout the county and will be used for the w-j-k station, rather than a private marina. He asked Elliott to serve as honorary general chairman and other supervisors as honorary directors. Supervisors were informed by State Sen. Martin Smith that the local and private bill they requested for a half mill levy for advertising through the Chamber of Commerce had passed the Senate. Senate Bill 2197 requires 21 days notice in the newspaper of the intention to levy and an election if petitioned by 20 per cent of the qualified voters.

County approves library matching funds request

A resolution from the City-County Public Library board for a $100,000 bond issue to provide matching funds for its new building on the motion of Board 1 member C. A. Russ, III, passed by a 4-2 vote on the motion of the earliest possible date, preferably in conjunction with another vote to be held down since there is a bond issue to be held.

June 4, Congressional primary date, indications are it may not be until November.

Mrs. E.C. Samuel, library president, said she hoped it could be sooner as a fund raising drive for the other $100,000 will begin in July. The library resolution termed the county's share the "minimum amount in order for us to reach our goal."

The building is estimated at $160,000 and the cost for equipment, coverage, water and landscaping, etc.

National Trailways Bus Co. asked the board to endorse its application to the Interstate Commerce Commission for a franchise to operate interstate on U.S. 90 between Mobile and New Orleans. Angel Bailey, special representative of the firm, explained passengers could not use the buses for local service—only to travel from one state to another. Whether local, express or commuter service were offered would be determined later, he said. Trailways now has only north-south routes between New Orleans and Mobile. Supervisors turned over the material to their attorneys.

To a second inquiry from H. H. Shattuck in behalf of Main Street Methodist Church whether church property across Gus Street from the Courthouse might be needed in the future, the board requested a price on the tract. The church wants to erect a new educational building there if the county isn't going to need it for an office annex.

Russell J. Elliott, board president, said he hopes to report Friday on other places to move the superintendent of education's office so the supervisors can have a meeting room. The plan had been to move the superintendent to the Agricultural Center but that is found to be more than one-quarter mile from the Courthouse so it doesn't qualify.

Payment of claims recommended by the port and harbor commission were approved. They included $9,873.90 to Yates & Patterson for the first bill on the new airport; $7,300 to L.S. Stockstill for the access road at Mulatto Bayou; and $9,451.36 to Beas 1, 3 and 5 for work on the industrial park at the bayou. The port's resolution agreeing to build the airport access road also was approved.

A letter came from U.S. Sen. John Stennis reporting his efforts to secure additional funds from the Federal Aviation Administration to lengthen the new airport runway and for other work there.

Technical Support at Keesler, AFB, and live in the area. We had to do so by having a new car when we changed. Gerry Lane Chevrolet had Saturday, we just wanted to see the new car which we'd heard so much about on radio and newspaper advertisements.

Then started talking to us and made such an attractive offer. We saw a good deal on a 1968 model that was just what we needed in a brand new car. We are very happy over our purchase.

Peers

After spending a goodly portion of last week's spare time huddled in clouds of dust on U.S. 90, which reduced visibility to the barest minimum and made a mockery of having one's hair shampooed, it was with a sigh of relief that we welcomed the first drizzle of rain which scattered to the thirsty earth. This feeling of elation lasted through about the third monsoon and by the time every roadway had turned into a swift canal, we were longing for an end to the downpour. However, as is usually the case on the coast, everything comes in abundance when it finally comes. We can have the hottest sunshine, the fiercest, coldest winter, gales, and certainly the wettest, most continuous rainfall of anywhere on earth, or at least it comes to be that way.

Fortunately no large out of doors activities had been scheduled for Friday night. The first nighters who viewed Cut on a Hot Tin Roof at the Little Theater were comfortably soaked before the rain came, as were diners who enjoyed the Bay High band banquet at Club Lodge which began at 8 p.m.

'Cat' draws rave reports

Tennessee Williams' fans and non-fans were unanimous in their praise of the lucky tale of decadent Southern aristocracy and raved over performances of the entire cast including such veterans as Andre Aronson, Carolinas Klotter, Phil Allison, Mary Carter and Dale Horvath. Everyone agreed that pretty Jill Cox was excellent in her first role, the very difficult portrayal of Maggie. Your reporter will give a more thorough review after we see the production next Friday night as we had previously planned to attend the banquet for band members and their parents.

Band banquet is gala

It would be absolutely impossible to list all guests but some included Ann and Ed Porter, Norma and John Douglas, Dot and Bill Blackledge, Elvira and Gerry Ross, Hazel and Claude Tracy (who, at last we got his name right), Eula and Jimmy Stovena, the Carl Blackledge, the Stovena Hastings, Jane Williams and son, David, Charlie Poolson, Mae and Chuck Loretto, Ann Wheeler, the Richard Stamms, Dot Hubbard, the B. J. Scroggs, Bobbie and Vernon McCullough, and many, many more including Borneo and Joe McCullough and the band's very talented and competent director, Mr. Richard Ford and his pretty wife, Rosemary.

East Hancock firemen's fair

Jupiter Phoebe did his darndest to keep the East Hancock Volunteer Fire Department a dirty curve forcing cancellation of all Saturday events at their second annual fair and shooting match. However, Sunday's sunshine rapidly dried out the grounds on Choctaw Street in Bayville Park and a real fun time was had by all who participated. Mrs. A. Nugent won the portable television; Paul Lobes the radio and Jimmy Morgan the transistor. Many a shot was fired to determine who was handiest with a shotgun in the shooting match. J. Rickey came out on top in this, followed by Malcolm Green, Merle Lang and Hugo Favre. Just a few spotted in the crowd included Charlie Johns, fire department president, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Latour, his being vice president, and secretary-treasurer Jay Marsh and wife, Bunny, who handled money changing chores. Also Sheriff Fred Curd, George (Dagmar) Rayburn, Russell Elliott, Joe Cuevas, Poet Montroy, Charlie Buns, Dolph Kellar, Pat Garcia, Lou Williams, etc., etc. Looking Saturday receipts naturally cut down on the take, but the eager firemen actually managed to peddle extra at $1 per hour.

Purchasing a tiny black kitten was pretty blonde Anna Ross, a cat of newsmen, as she and husband Britt and three daughters moved first to Waveland and are now making their home in Clorment Harbor. Britt is in the outdoor amusement business with Thomas Shown and is at present in Independence, Mo. We can't know what he'll say when he finds the obnoxious cat has become a member of the family, but just in case someone should call him this clipping, we'll add reassuringly that the cat is a male!

Jazzfest, a la Nereids

So many heard about the gay time Krewe of Nereids members had at the Gay 80's party last year and expressed desires to purchase tickets to their upcoming fete, that a limited number of checks have been made available to allow guests to attend. The original Papa Colostin band, now known as French's Jazz Band will play from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m. Saturday, June 1, at St. Clare's Parish hall and donation will be $10 per couple.

Mrs. Jameo Robert has returned home after spending a month in Florida. Her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Robert, and son, Donnie Corcoran of Lakeland, Fla. drove her to Miami, Fla., where she saw her grand-grandson, 11 month old Joseph Dodson, for the first time. His mother is the former Carolann Robert, daughter of the William Roberts, and Larry Dodson is the proud father.

New generation

Spending of grandchildren, Catharine and Al Kornien are already becoming over the prospect of the arrival of their first son though the event wasn't take place until almost Christmas. Catharine and Al came over Saturday and remained at their Waveland summer home until Wednesday. Maggie (Mrs. John) Dambrosio and granddaughters Kathleen Galtman, last for Kansas City, Mo., Monday. They will visit Maggie's color and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Storch and made the trip especially to attend the wedding of the Storchs' son, Richard, Kathleen is to be a flower girl in the ceremony. Mr. Richard Ford, director, very capably manned the affair and presented awards. Mr. Joe McCullough opened with a brief prayer. The food was delicious and guests were allowed to choose either steak or seafood plate as the entrée. Medals were handed out in the following order to drillmaster Carl Blalock, Chuck Liotto, Jerry Rose, Solchie Crider, Maroon Stamm, Randy Treacy, Debbie McCullough, to Steve and Maroon Stamm as best boy and girl marcher and Carl Miller for most improved bandman. Chuck Liotto received the Werlein's award as best musician; Carl Blalock, as drum major and Debbie and Randy Blackledge, drum majorettes. Outstanding bandmen in freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior classes went to Cham Dallas, Maureen Stamm, Cathie Crider and Jerry Rose in that order. Mr. Ford also announced names of drillmaster candidates for next season, they are: David Hubbard, Barry Stamm, Steve Solchie, Chris Dugher, Sara Scruggs, Dana Dean, Cham Dallas and Debbie Blackledge. It would be impossible to mention all who are receiving their college degrees within the next two weeks but some include Ellen McDonald who will get her sheepskin from Stephens in Columbia on May 27, Linda Munch, she will graduate from Loyola with a bachelor of science in medical technology, Mary Gann who is to receive her diploma from Loyola and graduates are Osmond Stamm, Johnny Bordages, Barry Rose, Peggy Overall, Johnnie Stamm, Pat Pernicaro, Carol Stamm, Ann Rutherford and Mary Bonds.

Local students have achieved summer jobs but Pili Stamm's position at a famed cafe in Scotland sounds most glamorous of all, all-along (Johnnie) Green, Ellen Travica are looking forward to their jobs at Murphy's and The Purple Lagoon.

Nancy McDonald was one of the birthday girls having her 18th cake on Saturday 18.

Local candidates for International Children's Village are: Danny Whitmann, son of Mrs. Paul Whitmann, David Tibbets, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Tibbets, who attends St. Clare's; Christ Episcopal Day.

Terri Zengler gets her diploma, welcome to the future. Terri left her 13th on Wednesday, May 15. From two in service Al La-ramas and Bobby Gavigan, who in the U.S. Navy, come back from N.T.C., San Diego, Calif.

Joan and Emile spent last Sunday in New Orleans and saw Edna and Wild Thing. They report that Edna Edna acquired a great tan when working in Mandeville. Peggy is afraid her toes for her library books are going to keep her almost broke. Eric has a strange memory.

Why did Jay C. use the alias "Don" and how he finally learned how to tell time?

We live in Gautier, Miss., and had been looking around for a clean late model pick-up truck. A friend told us about the good deals on OK used cars and trucks at Gerry Lane Chevrolet, Inc. We drove over and met salesman Joe Palazzo who found just what we wanted in our one-half ton Fleetside pick-up truck.

Three brothers at St. Stanislaus College will celebrate the anniversary of their vows as Brothers of the Sacred Heart on May 29 in special commemorative celebrations at the school.

Brother Aurelian will be marking 65 years of service. Brother Cornelius will be celebrating the golden jubilee of his perpetual profession and 61 years as a brother, and Brother Leon will complete his 25th year as a brother, his silver jubilee of profession of vows.

Brother Aurelian was born on Jan. 2, 1885 in France and made his first vows as a Brother of the Sacred Heart in 1903. He came to the United States when he was 18 years old and has served at St. Stanislaus ever since, a total of 65 years. Known to the faculty and students alike as The Chief, he has served as gardener, dairyman, freight agent, and other jobs.

Brother Cornelius was born in New York City in 1889, and took his first vows in 1907. He taught in Baton Rouge, La., for 14 years; Mobile, Ala., for 12 years; Indianapolis, Ind., for five years; Muskogee, Okla., for two years; Bay St. Louis, Miss., for six years; and Vicksburg, Miss., for 19 years. Brother Cornelius is now seventy-nine years old and has served as both a teacher and a prefect of discipline.

Brother Leon, was born in Pittsburg, Penn., in 1925. He took his first vows in 1943 in Metuchen, N.J. He has taught for one year in Natchez, Alexandria, La. and Muskogee, Okla. He taught for two years in Baton Rouge, and eight years in Thibodaux, both in Louisiana, and has been stationed at St. Stanislaus for 12 years. Brother Leon holds a bachelor's degree in elementary education from Loyola University.

SIGHTS AND SOUNDS ALONG THE WAY - A very dejected bus load of New Orleans school children victoriously going the water sealed bench on Saturday; two boys walking the rails along the tracks balancing precariously in almost Rochester-like unison; flocks of small black birds pecking hungrily away at grass and weed seeds and the ear-splitting roar of a couple of low flying jets operated by two obviously playful pilots.
